Item 632 – Signalization Misc. : Color Video Detection Camera and

Item 632 – Signalization Misc. : Video Detection System Cabinet Hardware

We would request that consideration be given to alternate Video Detection products from ITERIS.

The specification for the referenced project limits the Video Detection Equipment to only one manufacturer/form factor. The product specification requires that the camera communicate with the cabinet over twisted pair. (This specification implicitly requires the video processing be done overhead in the camera). The ITERIS product we wish to offer for consideration does not require communications to overhead cameras - only a video feed and power need to be run to the camera. (In one unitized cable assembly) The ITERIS system (all form factors - rack mount, shelf mount) contain the processor module(s) and communications interface(s) in the traffic signal control cabinet (where in our opinion it is best suited for ease of installation, maintenance and operations).

ITERIS does offer both monochrome and color cameras.

Thank you
