Question Number: 2

The retaining wall note on plan page 2/17 states that, "All steel shall be galvanized per CMS 711.02". Does this apply to the sheet pile facing, which would not be readily available? Cooperation with Railroad note, plan page 4/17, states that the contractor shall pay the railroad company the cost of the flagman. The Roads for Maintaining Traffic note, plan page 4/17, states, "Railroad crossings are not the responsibility of the contractor." Special Clauses in the Proposal, paragraph 8, indicates railroad flaggers are "at the sole cost and expense of the Department", and paragraph 10 indicates the contractor is responsible for all costs associated with construction, maintenance and removal of crossings. Please clarify whether the Department, the contractor or the railroad is specifically responsible for railroad flagmen and crossing costs.

A. Yes, it also applies to the sheet pile facing.
