

Permits for the Transportation of Aluminum Coils

“Aluminum coil permit” means a permit granting a special privilege which allows the movement of three or fewer aluminum coils with a maximum gross vehicle weight in excess of the eighty thousand pounds legal load limit, but not to exceed one hundred twenty thousand pounds, between two specific points, over prescribed routes. Such permits may be issued as a single trip, a continuing permit or annual continuing trip permit.

When applying for Special Hauling Permits to transport Aluminum Coils, please use the related steel coil permit type (Single Trip 1,2 or 3 Steel Coil; Continuing 3 or Fewer Steel Coil Permit; Continuing Annual 3 or Fewer Steel Coil Permit).

Please Note: Just as with steel Coil continuing permits or Continuing annual permits, aluminum coil Continuing permits or Continuing annual permits shall only originate from an approved facility.
