Question Number: 1

We will not know until all of our subcontractor pricing is in, but it seems that there could be a problem for our company to come up with 50 percent of the work on this emergency job. Will there be any concessions to the 50 percent requirement since this is an emergency job?

The work percentage requirement will remain at 50%

Question Number: 2

There is no pay item or work description for the intermediate and final coat of paint for the structural steel which is being replaced. Is an intermediate and final coat of paint required, and if so is it to be an OZEU system? Also, where should we put the cost for this work?

The design scope was for a prime coat only. There will be no intermediate or final coats of paint in this contract.
