Question Number: 3

Addendum 1 did not establish a bid item for the ARRA signing as was indicated in an answer to a previous pre-bid question. Is ARRA signing required on this project? A previous pre-bid questions indicates that detour signing is not part of this project. Is the note on page 9/100 going to be adjusted to indicate the detour signing is by others and a note added to page 10/100 to indicate the detour signing is by others?

Question Number: 4

A note on plan page 78/100 and 91/100 indicate various bearing components "shall be painted using the same prime coat and top coat color as the structural steel." I don't believe the structural steel on this project is being painted, there are not any bid items for painting structural steel. All of these components are weathering steel, do they need to be painted? Is there an intermediate coat required? if so what color should it be?

Question Submitted: 8/3/2009

Question Number: 5

The piling general notes on sheet 68/100 state to "...perform one restrike test on each of the two piles that were dynamically load tested." There are two restrikes but only one dynamic load test setup in the bid quantities. Please revise the dynamic load test bid quantity if the department wishes to test two piles.
