Issue 21: Curb Extensions

Curb Extensions

A wide street doesn't have to be a bridge too far

Few street elements have as many direct benefits for pedestrians as the curb extension, widening the sidewalk out into the parking lane. In addition to the decrease in conflicts with cars, curb extensions can do so much more.

Are you worried you can't be seen by motorists as you start crossing the street because parked cars are in the way?

- Curb extensions can help by removing those parked cars.

Are vehicles turning too quickly across your path?

- Curb extensions can help by tightening the intersection's curb radii, forcing drivers to slow down as they turn.

Curb extensions provide many more benefits and can be a great contribution to the public realm.
